

Our Post Office lines are slow? Try SNCF train stations in France!

We've arrive at the main train station in Lyon, where I'm standing in a long line that moves like molasses because? Are people planning their vacations in real-time at the ticket counters? You see the sane people at the same counter for 5, 10 minutes. Why? How hard is it to say you need tickets to Toulouse or Paris or Nice or wherever? We'll eventually get to Grenoble, but will it be today? :-)
