

Since it's raining... (an ode to rain riding, and Kevin in better days)

Made this two years ago; waking up to actual rain (not just the light drizzly nonsense we had yesterday) made me think of this again. Do I wish I was out in the muck today? If Kevin was healthy, sure, I'd be game. But trying to get over a nasty cold? I'll let others ride in the rain today. Whoever you are, wherever you are, I salute those on bicycles riding in the rain. --Mike--
