

I'm alive, I'm still in France, things are good!

First set of photos from today's trip to the Time Trial in Lourdes. These are from Kevin; working on mine.

So yes, we are alive, yes, I rode again yesterday. The broken ribs don't seem to be a big deal. Unless I cough or sneeze. Tomorrow morning we head on another train, this time to Paris, and Monday... we fly home! More shortly. --Mike--