

A bit too much excitement in Redwood City today

Click on the FB link and you'll see the video I took of Tuesday afternoon's shooting on El Camino, just a block north of Chain Reaction Bicycles. Kevin became quite the celebrity, featured on five different newscasts. Originally the TV people saw my video and contacted me; I pointed out that Kevin was much closer to where things were happening, having to take cover behind a car as things became violent (gunshots).
