

Memorial ride for fallen cyclist on Canada Road

It was pretty amazing, really, the support the cycling community showed for Leser Lagarda, killed Monday while cycling northbound on Canada Road at 5pm. We met at Woodside Town Hall, and surprisingly, had a full police escort, including traffic control at all intersections.

It was overcast, cool, but the atmosphere was warm and comfortable. This was bringing people together, and hopefully we'll see the start of some serious changes to make cycling safer on the Peninsula.