

Not what you expect to see, and this time I got it on video! (Bobcat on WOLH)

Today's ride started up pretty badly for me; just couldn't get any power. Quite the contrast from Sunday's ride where I got my best time up OLH since last October and West Alpine since 2020. Not sure if it was the 30 hours in-between that I spent in Las Vegas with my wife (Karen) that killed me?
