

Both stores open this Sunday. And yes, there will be sales!

Our Redwood City location is normally closed on Sundays, but we'll be here for you the Sunday before Christmas, smiling and cheerful and helping you with new bikes and cool stuff for presents & stocking stuffers while it's nasty & raining outside. We're hoping it's nice, but the long-range weather forecast presently doesn't know nice.

We'll also have our Los Altos store open on Monday (they're normally closed Mondays & open Sundays).

What will be on sale? All Jackets, Jerseys, Shorts, Arm & Leg Warmers and most other things we'd call "apparel" (but not shoes or sunglasses or helmets) are 20% off regular price. We'll have some extra-special further markdowns on closeout bikes too. And who knows what else? I'll be sending out an email flyer shortly.

No, you can't test ride a bike in the rain, but we'll have trainers set up and make sure everything fits just right. Come in and say hi and keep us company! Oh, and if you've got odd-sized feet, either really small (preferably women's) or a guy with wide size 13 monsters, we've got a \$50 sidi closeout sale going on.
