

Rode Thursday, rode Friday, where are the diary entries?

Saturday morning 12:51am as life catches up with me. Had a nice ride Thursday, and then Friday my son and I rode down to the train station, took CalTrain to San Jose, then rode to the Tour of California Time Trial course. The original plan was to ride up the gentler back side, but due to an error reading a map I missed the turn and ended up climbing Metcalf itself. Let me tell you it's steep! Those guys were dying out there.

More soon- --Mike--
