

Scared of heights?

We could have just ridden up Alpe d'Huez, but lots of people do that. For a good time, check out road D211A!

We saw this road a couple years ago, when we were riding another cliff-hanging road on the other side of the valley. Said we'd have to check it out. So we did! And wow, what an amazing road. Not an easy ride; lots more climbing involved than "just" climbing Alpe d'Huez. More on today's adventures soon, but yes, we took lots of photos, had a great time riding in the Alps, and met up with yet another rainstorm. --Mike--
